Engendering whiteness: White Women and Colonialism in ...

Engendering whiteness represents a comparative analysis of the complex interweaving of race, gender, social class and sexuality in defining the contours of white women's lives in Barbados and North Carolina during the era of slavery. Despite their gendered subordination, their social location within the dominant white group afforded all white women a range of privileges.

Engendering whiteness - University of Warwick

In Barbadian slave society, only free white citizens were legally empowered to own and dispose of property without constraints. This chapter describes white women as passive bystanders in the slave society and economy. Caribbean slavery afforded white women a range of social and economic opportunities that were perhaps beyond the reach of most women in Europe. The chapter analyses the ...
