"Maybe I Should Just Shoot You In The Face" has an absolutely awesome, eye-catching title that might scare some folks away from it. If it does, too bad for them. This is a top-notch collection of noir crime fiction written by some of the top modern writers in the field, including Paul Brazill, Chris Leek, Benoit Lelievre, Isaac Kirkman, Brian Panowich, Chuck Regan, Gareth Sparks, and Ryan Sayles.

Maybe I Should Just Shoot You In The Face by Brian Panowich

In his memoir, Maybe I Should Just Shut Up And Go Away, he looks back across the decades and shares the often-hilarious reality of what happens behind the scenes when you're a talk radio icon. Longtime friend with national radio greats Rush Limbaugh and Sean Hannity, he tells how those relationships began in the hot seat of competition.

Written as a memoir for his grandbaby, "Maybe I Should Just Shut Up and Go Away" is an inside look into Neal Boortz's 42 years on radio. Some of his most hilarious stories include nekkid piloting, cat chasing, and much-too-intelligent dolphins. Don't start reading in the evening, though - you'll be up all night laughing until it hurts.
