A psycho turns fairy-tale endings into nightmares in this “vivid cat-and-mice game” from the New York Times – bestselling author (William Bayer, Edgar Award – winning author). Karen is a lonely middle-aged doctor with a house in the woods. Sarah is a grief-stricken suburban widow who has turned to booze and barbiturates. Jordan is a directionless high school student and a child of divorce. They are three women with nothing in common but their red hair—until a stranger who calls himself the Big Bad Wolf sends each one the same chilling letter. Just like vulnerable Little Red Riding Hood, they are going to be stalked and killed—but in three distinct ways, in three different locations, all on the same fateful day. The one thing this devious madman didn’t count on was the Reds discovering each other. When authorities refuse to help, Karen, Sarah, and Jordan band together. But as they discover their power in numbers, how far are they’re willing to go to beat the Wolf at his own game. From the New York Times – bestselling author of Day of Reckoning comes a “twisted riff” on a Grimm tale (Publishers Weekly). “Must read for thriller fans.” —Booklist, starred review “Few writers of crime fiction seem to understand the criminal mind as well as Katzenbach.” —People

A reporter is the only hope for an innocent man on death row for murder—while the real killer roams free—in this “riveting, provocative” thriller (Publishers Weekly). When burnt-out Miami reporter Matt Cowart receives a letter from a death row inmate pleading his innocence, he is tempted to dismiss it. But as the newspaperman digs into the case of Robert Earl Ferguson, an African American given the death penalty for the brutal slaying of a white girl, he begins to believe that Ferguson is the real victim of hate and prejudice. And if he doesn’t act, the wrong man is going to be executed. In the months that follow, Cowart’s investigative articles not only set Ferguson free, but make Cowart a celebrity and win him a Pulitzer Prize—and set in motion a new chain of unimaginable horror. For there is monster out there, and he is not through with killing. . . . Includes a preface by the author “ Tense, exciting, and very, very real. ” —The Detroit News “ A classic cat-and-mouse story. ” —Orlando Sentinel “ Katzenbach is a skilled storyteller. . . . With admirable subtlety . . . [he] manages to address the disturbing issues of race and crime. . . . Powerful. ” —Chicago Tribune “ The criminal mind, racial bias, journalistic ego and the flawed fabric of the American criminal justice system are potent raw materials for psychological suspense master Katzenbach. ” —Publishers Weekly “ Terrific . . . His best book by far. ” —Lawrence Block

A nice New England family has a dark secret in this “ superb exercise in suspense ” from the New York Times – bestselling author (TheNew York Times Book Review). Megan and Duncan Richards are no longer the radical activists they were in 1968. He ’ s a banker, and she works in real estate. They have a fine house, impeccable reputations, and three beautiful kids. Their past is safely stashed away until the day Duncan gets a call from the woman he ’ s spent decades trying to forget. Once, he knew her as Tanya, the charismatic leader of Northern California ’ s militant Phoenix Brigade. She had orchestrated their last robbery—a catastrophe that ended in bloodshed and murder. While Megan and Duncan escaped to their new lives, Tanya wasn ’ t so lucky. She ’ s spent eighteen years in prison . . . eighteen years planning the perfect revenge on her deserters. Now she ’ s free, and there isn ’ t a soul Megan and Duncan can turn to for help. What happens when a family is pushed to the brink? The answer “ is the stuff of which parents ’ nightmares—and well-crafted novels—are made ” (The Atlanta Journal-Constitution). “ Day of Reckoning is dynamite. ” —Chicago Tribune “ Gripping. ” —The Washington Post

One man infiltrates the dark web to stop a sadistic game: A Booklist 101 Best Crime Novels of the Past Decade, from the New York Times – bestselling author. Adrian Thomas is a psychology professor whose career was spent delving into damaged minds. Diagnosed with a fatal degenerative disease that is causing hallucinations and stripping him of his memories, Adrian wants to end his life—until he sees a girl snatched off the street and dragged screaming into the back of a van. Dismissed as an unreliable witness, Adrian must act alone. He knows what he saw, but he has no idea how dark it ’ s going to get. Out of the basement of their Massachusetts farmhouse, a sadistic husband and wife run a website called What Comes Next. A global audience of subscribers is tuning in to watch an ongoing nightmare inflicted in real time—and to cast their votes on the fate of the kidnappers ’ latest catch. For Victim Number Four, time is running out. “ An experience akin to riding the scariest roller coaster, ” What Comes Next is a bold and timely thriller about what lurks within the depths of society ’ s most depraved minds (New York Journal of Books). “ Powerful . . . fiendish . . . This is an exceptional novel—and a most troubling one. ” —The Washington Post “ Draw[s] you deeper and deeper into a chilling atmosphere of evil, darkness, and shadows. ” —The Miami Herald “ [A] re-imagining of The Pit and the Pendulum for the digital age. ” —Kirkus Reviews

A grad student and his ex-girlfriend team up to solve a murder in this psychological thriller from the New York Times – bestselling author of Just Cause. Timothy “ Moth ” Warner, a Miami PhD student, wakes up on his ninety-ninth day of sobriety with an intense craving for alcohol. He asks his uncle Ed, a former alcoholic and now successful psychiatrist, to meet him at an AA meeting later that day. But when Ed doesn ’ t show up, Moth bikes to his office only to find his uncle lying in a pool of blood. The police pronounce the death a suicide, but Moth can ’ t believe it. Devastated and confused, he calls on the only person he thinks he can trust: Andrea Martine, an ex-girlfriend he has not spoken to in years. Each battling their inner demons, Moth and Andy travel into dark, unfamiliar territory, intent on uncovering the truth about Ed ’ s death and circling ever closer to a devious mind that will flinch at nothing for revenge. A Publishers Weekly top 10 mystery & thriller for fall An Amazon book of the month in the mystery/thriller category “ Katzenbach ratchets up his trademark intensity in The Dead Student. ” —Sun Sentinel (South Florida) “ A twisted, compelling tale of death and deceit. ” —Lansing State Journal “ An intricately woven plot with sensitively drawn characters. ” —The Washington Times “ The Dead Student . . . demonstrates why [Katzenbach] has a place on many ’ must-read author ’ lists . . . You will want to read [it] in one sitting. ” —BookReporter “ One of the freshest and most unlikely duos to appear in crime fiction. ” —Kirkus Reviews “ [A] clever cat-and-mouse thriller. ” —Publishers Weekly

We're in New York. Red One is a doctor, Red Two is a high school teacher, and Red Three is a student of seventeen. All three are redheads. They dont know each other, but live nearby. The three received a letter, which refers to a different end of the story of Little Red Riding Hood in which the girl dies. They have been selected to die.

When Ashley Freeman, a bright and beautiful young woman, becomes the target of unrelenting obsession on the part of Michael O'Connell, she and her family struggle to extricate her from her violent admirer, until they are forced to come up with a no-holds-barred plan to outwit her dangerous stalker. 40,000 first printing.

National Book Award Finalist! Instant New York Times Bestseller! The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian meets Jane the Virgin in this poignant but often laugh-out-loud funny contemporary YA about losing a sister and finding yourself amid the pressures, expectations, and stereotypes of growing up in a Mexican American home. Perfect Mexican daughters do not go away to college. And they do not move out of their parents' house after high school graduation. Perfect Mexican daughters never abandon their family. But Julia is not your perfect Mexican daughter. That was Olga's role. Then a tragic accident on the busiest street in Chicago leaves Olga dead and Julia left behind to reassemble the shattered pieces of her family. And no one seems to acknowledge that Julia is broken, too. Instead, her mother seems to channel her grief into pointing out every possible way Julia has failed. But it's not long before Julia discovers that Olga might not have been as perfect as everyone thought. With the help of her best friend, Lorena, and her first love (first everything), Connor, Julia is determined to find out. Was Olga really what she seemed? Or was there more to her sister's story? And either way, how can Julia even attempt to live up to a seemingly impossible ideal?

The Travels of Sir John Mandeville is the chronicle of the alleged Sir John Mandeville, an explorer. His travels were first published in the late 14th century, and influenced many subsequent explorers such as Christopher Columbus.
